Titchfield Parish Register

1589-1634

Titchfield History Society
The Titchfield Parish Register
1590 - 1634

Transcribed from the original

Editor Keith Hayward BA ALA
Foreword by The Bishop of Portsmouth
The Right Reverend Dr. Kenneth Stevenson

‘Local history is of enduring importance, because it gives us firm data about what actually happened in particular places at particular times.

Titchfield is indeed fortunate to have these records, especially as the period in question - from 1590 to 1634 - was a time of considerable change at a national level. Between those years, the country was ruled by Elizabeth I, then James I followed by his son Charles I, and the Civil War was only round the corner.

Titchfield is also fortunate in having an active and dedicated History Society to ensure that this Parish Register sees the light of day, and the co-operation of the University of Portsmouth in printing the book.

I am glad to salute this venture, and proud to live within its vicinity. History is about our roots, and about people, and we are impoverished when we forget these truths.’
Introduction

Soon after the Titchfield History Society was founded in 1977 it was decided to transcribe and publish the Titchfield Parish Registers. These begin in January 1589/90 and are deposited at Hampshire Record Office, where they are now normally available to researchers on microfiche. Until now the earlier books in particular have remained difficult to use because of the Elizabethan handwriting, because much of the handwriting is very untidy and because they are unindexed.

The present volume contains the text of the first extant Register (Hampshire Records Office ref. 37M73A/PR1) covering events up to April 1634. In addition to the usual baptisms, marriages and burials there are several historical and administrative notes.

At the period of this Register, the New Year began on March 25th. No attempt has been made to convert the dates to modern usage. For instance, the commencement date of this Register, January 1589, would by modern reckoning be January 1590.

This edition is based on three different transcripts:

1. A full transcript for the years 1589/90 - 1629 made at the suggestion of Mr D. G. Watts, our President, by Mr & Mrs C. Sinclair-Williams, who had previously transcribed the Hearth Tax Returns already published by the Society.

2. A full transcript for the years 1630 - 1634 made by Mrs A. Mitchell of this Society at the request of the Editor.

3. Extracts of names and dates for the complete period made by the Editor.

These copies were made independently and - as regards (1) and (3) - each in ignorance of the other work. What might have been a wasteful duplication of effort was turned to great advantage by comparing the copies minutely, and resolving discrepancies by reference to the original Register. The corrected text was then word-processed and proof-read against the original. Final corrections having been entered, the text was printed out, and lastly an index was compiled and checked against the text. Any errors which do survive are the Editor's responsibility, and he would be glad to have details of any found.

All information in the Register has been transcribed, the Editor's aim being to present the Clerk's intentions as exactly as possible, subject to certain editorial conventions:

...... denotes illegible matter.

----- under a particular date or heading indicates that no event is registered, or within an entry that some information is missing from the original.

 indicates that an alteration has been made in the original document. In many cases it appears that the Clerk, possibly misled by the format of the Register, entered details on the wrong page, and on discovering his error crossed them out and re-entered them elsewhere.

Any abbreviation is indicated by an apostrophe, it being impossible on modern word processors to reproduce the various original abbreviation symbols. The orthography of the original has otherwise been preserved. The words "of this month" have been omitted as superfluous because in the original document a new page is started for each new month's events.

Dates are in various styles of Roman or modern numerals depending on the scribe of the day. Thus the twelfth may appear as xij, xijth, xij°, 12 or 12th, or indeed may be spelt in full in a variety of ways.

The meaning of C which appears after some entries is unclear, although it has been suggested that the events in question might have taken place at Crofton Chapel.
Acknowledgements

The Society would like to thank all those who have contributed to this book. We are especially grateful to the transcribers who have made this publication possible: to Mr & Mrs Sinclair-Williams for making their work available; to Mrs Mitchell for extending their work up to the end of the Register, to Mr K. Hayward of this Society who not only made one of the transcripts, but as Editor carried out the long and arduous task of collation, word-processing and proof-reading, and to Mr Watts for undertaking the difficult and intricate task of indexing. Thanks are also due to Mr H. Hicks, Mr Watts and Mrs S. Wise who formed the subcommittee which initiated the project; to Miss M. Cash, late County Archivist, who gave us permission to transcribe and provided the photocopies on which the transcripts were based; to Miss R. Dunhill, present County Archivist, who allowed the Editor the privilege of using the original Register for proof-reading purposes; to Mr N. Fox of Hampshire County Library who allowed the Editor the use of a word-processor, and to Mr P. Webb for the final preparation of the text for publication.

We should also like to acknowledge the enormous amount of effort which has already gone into transcribing later Registers for publication in due course.

INDEX

The main page index is by surname and initials. If a particular combination of surname and initial occurs more than once on any page, the number of instances is given in brackets after the page number. However, two or more references to the same surname and initial on any particular page are not necessarily the same individual. The widely varied spelling of the period makes for great difficulties in indexing. To avoid overburdening the index with cross-references, variants of each surname have been grouped together, so far as they lie within each initial letter. Variants elsewhere in the alphabet have been left in separate groups, but see the list of possible related names at the end of this section.

Indexes are also given to the place names, descriptive names (mostly occupations) and to given names where no surname is apparent.
